CAMP BUCCOU TO OPEN SUNDAY FOR PERIOD OF MONTH

Will Be Conducted Similar To Other Years, With Various Sections

LIVERMORE IS DIRECTOR

Cub Camp Likewise to Be Open for Four Full Weeks

Camp Buccou, the Bucks County Boy Scout Council's camp for Scouts, Cubs and Scouters, will open Sunday, July 24th, for a four week season. District patrol camps have been held every Friday and Saturday, starting May 20th and ending July 2nd. These camps were run to make it possible for every Scout to get to Buccou and to give them more experience in patrol camping. Divisional troop camps are being conducted every Saturday and Sunday from July 9th to 24th.

As in previous years the 1932 camps will be Scout camp, Indian Village, waterfront camp and cub camp. The camp director, supervising all four camps will be Scout executive William F. Livermore, assisted by Eagle Scout James Townsend, of Langhorne, as program director. The Scout camp director is Scoutmaster O. Kenneth Fretz, of Quakertown No. 2. Mr. Fretz has an extensive knowledge of nature and will add much to the nature program at Buccou. The Indian Village will be in charge of Eagle Scout Carl Leidy, of Doylestown. Scout Leidy has five years of camping experience, and is very well versed in Indian lore. The waterfront camp will be under the supervision of Eagle Scout Robert Wright, of Bristol. Boating, canoeing, swimming and waterfront program will be under the capable supervision of leader Wright.

The Cub camp, for boys nine to twelve, will be open the full four week period and will be directed by Eagle Scout Edward Baumeister, of South Langhorne. Scout Baumeister was assistant cub director at Buccou for the past two years. He will have as his assistant this year, Scout Fred Clymer, of Doylestown.

Buccou camps will be open to visitors all day Sunday, on Wednesday evening from 7 to 10, when "stunt night" will be observed, and on Saturday evening from 7 to 10 for the ceremonial campfire. The annual camp show will be held on Thursday evening, August 18th, when everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Buccou means much to every Bucks county boy. It offers to each camper fun, adventure, fellowship, advancement, citizenship training, character development.

Here is the ticket department at Union Station where ex-service men are taken care of. The majority of the bonus-seekers intend to stick until their demands are met.

BETTER SURROUNDINGS GIVEN STATE POLICE

Sub-Stations Throughout State
Are Placed on Main
Thoroughfares

COVER MORE MILEAGE

HARRISBURG, July 13.—State Highway patrolmen have been taken out of the hovels in which many of them have been quartered and given decent surroundings, Secretary of Revenue Clyde L. King said today.

Substations have been moved from inaccessible back streets to main thoroughfares. Offices have been established on first floors to preclude necessity of the public entering bedrooms of the patrolmen. They have been properly equipped so that the clerical work can be done in a business-like manner.

During the past fiscal year the equipment has been increased and better. Weather-proof first aid kits are carried on all motorcycles. Each motorcycle is equipped with a fire extinguisher.

Permanent metal signals have been installed at carefully plotted points close to dwellings whose occupants can be relied upon for direct telephone communication with sub-stations. The system provides a quick way for sub-stations to locate men on patrol in case of emergency.

While 20,000 miles of highways have been added to the State Highway system in the past year, the number of patrolmen was increased but three per cent. Their strength is 477. Prior to the fiscal year 1931-32 the Patrol was not up to its authorized strength.

The approximate cost per highway patrolman during the year ending May 31, 1930, was $2,400 per man; for the year ending May 31, 1931, $2,500; for the year May 31, 1932, excluding replacement of worn out equipment, $2,500.

The net result, the Secretary said, is no increase in the operating cost for each patrolman for the first year of the current biennium over the second fiscal year of the last biennium. The increase in total expenditures during the three years was due entirely to the addition of service pay and increase in personnel. Better efficiency and more men on the road for longer hours was obtained by better administration and by more and better equipment, Secretary King said.

Nineteen Tables Are Occupied by Card Players

HERE AND THERE THRUOUT BUCKS COUNTY

Bucks County Senator is Member of Committee to Hear The Charges Against Ainey—80 Winners of State Scholarships Announced by Department of Public Instruction, Bucks Winner Being Doylestown Youth—Find Body of Man Hanging from Tree Limb

Senator Clarence J. Buckman, of Bucks county, is a member of the committee which will hear the Chapman charges against Chairman William D. B. Ainey, of the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission.

Ainey is alleged to have received $150,000 in various payments from the late T. E. Mitten, while the former was head of the Public Service and Mitten was dictator of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company.

The charges were made by A. A. Chapman, formerly financial secretary to Mitten.

The State Department of Public Instruction today announced the eighty winners of State scholarships awarded annually through competitive examinations.

Each scholarship is valued at $100 a year for four years at any Pennsylvania university or college approved by the College and University Council.

Each county is given one scholarship except where there are two or more senatorial districts to a county in which case each district is allowed one scholarship.

The Bucks county winner is Ernest M. Spokes, of Doylestown High.

The body of an unidentified man found hanging from a tree near the Harrow by Nicholas Buck, is believed to be Charles Kessler, of near Lansdale, according to Chief of Police Samuel Wofford, of Lansdale, who gave that information to Coroner John J. Sweeney, M. D., of Doylestown.

Kessler's brother believes that the suicide is his brother who has been missing for three weeks. He will go to Doylestown to confer with Coroner Sweeney in an effort to complete identification.

The body of the suicide was buried yesterday in a cemetery not far from where it was found.

Corporal William Engle, of the Doylestown sub-station of State Highway Patrol, was passing through Revere when he was stopped by Buck, who informed him that a dead man was hanging from a tree in a woods nearby. Coroner Sweeney was notified by Corporal Engle and a certificate of death due to suicide was issued. The Coroner says that the man had been dead for several days for his body was in an advanced stage of decomposition.

The man hung himself from the limb of a tree, using a strap from his overalls. There was nothing on his person to aid authorities in identifying him.

FAULTY PUMP HINDERS WOMAN FLIER'S ATTEMPT

Amelia Earhart Forced Down
at Port Columbus, Ohio,
in Cross-Country Hop

HAS RESUMED HER TRIP

FORT COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 13.—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam's attempt to break the trans-continental non-stop flight record ran into "tough luck" here today when she was forced to bring her plane down at Port Columbus airport for repairs to a faulty gasoline pump.

The aviatrix resumed her trip east a little more than an hour later after the plane had been repaired and refueled with 141 gallons of gas.

Mrs. Putnam said she expected to reach New York within a few hours.

Mrs. Putnam brought her plane, a Lockheed-Vega in which she recently crossed the Atlantic, down at the airport here this morning, after having been unreported since she took off from Los Angeles yesterday afternoon with hopes of breaking the trans-continental record set by Captain Frank Hawks.

PORT COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 13.—(INS)—Amelia Earhart Putnam circled the airport here at 6.57 o'clock this morning preparatory to bringing her plane to a landing, according to a report of airport officials.

DAYTON, Ohio, July 13.—(INS)—A Lockheed-Vega monoplane, similar to the type Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam hopped off in from Los Angeles yesterday to attempt a non-stop trans-continental flight, passed over Dayton airport at 6.29 o'clock this morning, airport officials reported.

The plane was traveling at a rapid clip and was flying high, airport officials said. They were unable to definitely identify the craft, but it was believed to have been that of Mrs. Putnam.

The progress of Mrs. Putnam's flight has been unreported since she took off yesterday with hopes of breaking the trans-continental non-stop record of 18 hours, 21 minutes and 59 seconds established by Captain Frank Hawks.

ing him. Authorities believe that he was about thirty.

The resignation of Harvey Baum as treasurer of the Hilltown School Board was unanimously accepted at a heated meeting of the board in the Hilltown High School, Blooming Glen. Mr. Baum resigned in favor of the Union National Bank and Trust Company of Souderton, recommending that the trust department of that institution be named as his successor, but in the confusion of the battle, a motion to adjourn was pushed through on a three to two vote and no action was taken following the acceptance of the resignation.

As a result, the Hilltown school district is now in the unusual position of being without a treasurer of any kind, either in the person of an individual or in a designated institution.

Another peculiar situation arising out of the badly muddled and hurriedly-adjourned meeting is that the funds, over which no individual has any authority, are resting in the People's National Bank of Souderton, while the Union National Bank and Trust, of Souderton, is the officially designated depository. The funds cannot be moved until the board solicitor conducts an investigation, and decides whether or not the First National Bank of Lansdale is the proper place for them.

AVERAGE AGE INCREASES, COUNCIL SURVEY SHOWS

HARRISBURG, July 13.—The average age of Pennsylvania's people is steadily increasing.

This is one of the interesting facts developed in the Greater Pennsylvania Council's forthcoming bulletin on "Pennsylvania Population Trends."

In 1900 only eighteen Pennsylvanians out of every 100 were more than 45 years of age. In 1930, twenty-three persons out of each 100 were 45 or over.

In 1900, forty-two out of each 100 persons were less than 20 years of age, and in 1930 there were only thirty-nine out of each 100.

In 1900 there were forty persons out of each 100 between the ages of 20 and 45. In 1930 the proportion had declined to 38.

The chief factor causing these changes have been the decreasing number of children due to a falling birth rate, and the decreasing death rate at the other end of the age-scale. "Pennsylvania tends to become a State of the middle-aged and elderly. This may mean a slow but fundamental revolution in the mass needs and economic habits of the people which must be taken into account by government and industry," said Dr. Charles Reitel, council director.

MORRISVILLE MAN BURNED ABOUT FACE

Joseph Krumacker Ignited Old
Newspapers Saturated
With Gasoline

FIREMEN WERE CALLED

Burning old newspapers which had become saturated with gasoline resulted in Joseph Krumacker, South Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville, being burned about the face, arms and legs yesterday. His condition is not regarded as serious but he is being detained at St. Francis Hospital for observation.

Krumacker had kept his dog in the cellar and it is reported, the cellar became infested with fleas. He used a gasoline spray in the cellar to kill the insects and some of the fuel dropped on some old newspapers. To get rid of them Krumacker placed them in the heater and threw a match in on them. There was a flare-up and Krumacker's clothing was ignited.

The victim's wife ran to his aid and extinguished the flaming garments, after which Howard Sultzback, a neighbor, rushed him to the hospital.

The Union and Capitol Fire Companies responded to an alarm and extinguished the burning newspapers since it was feared the fire would spread in the cellar.

HERBERT KEYES, 15, GOES DOWN WHILE SWIMMING STREAM

Three Companions Heard His Cries for Help But Were Too Far Away

FATHER SITS ON DOCK

Pitiful Figure As Crews Grapple for Body of His Son

Sitting pitifully upon one of the pilings at the freight dock here Walter Keyes, colored, 438 Pond street, watched eight volunteer crews drag the Delaware River channel for the body of his son, throughout the night. Chief Jones and police officers resumed the grappling this morning. Up until noon today the body had not been recovered.

Herbert E. Keyes, 15, was drowned in the river yesterday afternoon at about 3.20 while attempting with three companions to swim to the flats off Burlington Island. His chums did not know that Herbert was having difficulty until they heard him call for help. They were too far away to render assistance. Men in a passing motor boat were called to by the trio, but the colored lad was going down for the last time. He drowned just off the channel buoy in about 30 feet of water.

Keyes was in the 10th grade high school and was active in athletics. He had a reputation for putting the shot and won honors for the First Ward boys in Boys' Week. He also played football and baseball. He was a patrol leader in Boy Scout Troop No. 3 and was a member of Bethel A. M. E. Church. In addition to his parents the lad is survived by three brothers and a sister.

Keyes left home at about 1.45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to his mother. "He had been swimming for a couple of years," Mrs. Keyes stated today.

The lad joined Arthur Fuoco, Theodore Mikopoulos and "Spike" Naylor at the freight dock, Mill street. The quartette sported about in the water for a while and then decided to swim to the flats off the Island.

Mikopoulos says that he did not know that Keyes was with them until his cries for help were heard. "We were then quite a distance from him."

Arthur Fine, John Smoyer, Charles Cullen and Joseph Chardy also heard the lad's frantic yells for help but were too far away to give any assistance.

It is believed that Keyes got caught in the strong tide running in the deepened channel and that either his strength gave out or else he was attacked with cramps.

The other three boys swam to the flats and then walked up to the Island wharf where they stood grief stricken watching the efforts to recover the body of their chum.

Word of the drowning flashed to Burlington and Bristol, and crews put out with grappling irons, from both towns. Sea Scouts went to the scene and the volunteer crews along with Chief Jones and Bristol police officers dragged about the spot until almost day-break. Hundreds of people gathered on the Pennsylvania and New Jersey shores to watch the men in their attempt to recover the body. The Bristol and Burlington wharves were crowded with people. Congestion became so great at the Bristol dock that a police officer was assigned to patrol duty.

Sea scouts of Ship "Elks" postponed a "doggie" roast booked for last night and spent the time dragging for the body.

COMMUNITY GROWTH

Busy factories are as vital to the city and town as good crops and fair market prices are vital to the agricultural section. The manufacturing community—few American communities do not have one or more industries—does not appreciate the value of its factories until a business depression shuts them down and puts their many employees out of work.

Formerly the inland community was a group of houses, a store or two, a church and a school. Its purpose seemed to have been little more than a meeting and shopping place for nearby farmers and their families. Eventually, as the nation drifted toward industrialism, factories were established in these little centers of population. These industries took what native labor they found and acted as a magnet for the surplus labor in the surrounding area. The community grew and new industries and more labor came.

Today the process of industrial and community development is more complex. Experience has proved that, except in the largest cities, there is such a thing in the community as a point of saturation. Increasing the community population is not a simple expedient of inviting new industries to build there. Factories are built where there is a surplus of labor of a kind required by the particular industry. Steel mills are not established in a shoe manufacturing town, and vice versa. The industry must go to the labor supply for the labor surplus in this country is not so large that industry can place its thumb on it any place.

The community must build up its labor supply if it is to develop more industries and if it has a surplus of labor then the community must extend its industries. Community developing is a scientific rather than a hit-or-miss process.

OUT OF THE RED

The country is now turning a corner; not the corner where prosperity is supposed to loiter, but the corner in national finances. At this corner the Federal Treasury left a deficit of nearly three billions and launched into a new fiscal year and into the making of a balanced budget.

Last year the Federal Government spent 19 per cent more than in the preceding year, although its income was smaller than any since 1917. Disregarding the two unbudgeted emergency expenditures, the cost of running the national government during the last fiscal year was 4 per cent higher than for the preceding year, although revenue had fallen off heavily.

Because Congress failed to cut costs last year and continued to spend with no thought of the morrow, the national debt has been increased by three billions and the people are burdened with new taxes, superimposed upon a tax load already back-breaking for the masses and business.

It is reassuring, however, to know that national finances have reached the turning point. Coupled with the economies effected, the new taxes will make unnecessary further short-term loans for paying Uncle Sam's bills. From now on the country probably can pay as it goes, which is consoling at a time when every loan means higher taxes from now on.

CHAPTER FIFTY-ONE

Once Lily Lou would have fled in dismay from the prima donna's lurid tales, and Elizabethan English, but she listened now, smiling a little . . .

She had come to ask for a loan, but it was never asked for. Madame Nahman said, "You must come with me on my concert tour, I go as far as St. Louis. Wonderful bookings. Really quite the best publicity and advance sales . . . You will accompany me. Seline is the violinist."

"I—accompany you! But you—there—wouldn't be satisfied!"

"Not a word. It is settled. My mind is made up—just like that!"

It was arranged. Afterward Lily Lou found out that it was the trick she had discovered last summer, of filling in the "hole" in Nahman's voice—that empty space in the middle register.

"You are certainly not a great pianist," Tony told her, "but you are an accurate and an intelligent one, with more sympathy than a bigger artist would have. So do not thank her too much. You serve her purpose."

"And she serves mine. Tony, I don't know what I'd have done if this hadn't come along."

"You would not starve," he told her easily.

"I'm going on concert tour with Nahman for fourteen weeks," she told Gwin. "I'm sorry—you'll have to get another accompanist."

"Is that the only reason you are sorry?"

Lily Lou looked down at her feet. She knew, so well, what Gwin was thinking. "I'll be sorry to lose my lessons with you. I know how much I owe you, how much you've taught me—"

There was no further opportunity to talk then, another pupil came in. When, later, she prepared to go, he said, "After the concert tour, Lily Lou, I'll help you if you ever need coaching on a role. But there is nothing more I can teach you about singing. Things might have been different. But since you're going to Nahman—"

LAWLER AND WATSON IN MOUND BATTLE

LOWER BUCKS COUNTY LEAGUE

Results of Last Night
I. O. F. 4; BRISTOL 2

HULMEVILLE 9; CROYDON, 3

(By T. M. Juno)

In a hurling duel between Gene Lawler and "Ike" Watson, the Odd Fellows took the Bristol A. A. team into camp on Sullivan's field last night, the score being 4-2.

Watson allowed the A's but five blows and although he was in trouble in the last frame when Bristol scored a run he had an easy time throughout. Lawler gave up seven blows for his night's work and outside of the fourth inning did exceptionally well.

"Benny" Praul and Leo Hibbs with two hits apiece led the winners. Paul Barrett and Watson collected the only extra base hits of the game both clouting doubles.

On Thursday night the A. A. will play the Odd Fellows at Emille, the game being changed at the request of both managers.

TULLYTOWN, July 13.—Three runs in the final canto enabled the Hibernians to defeat the Paterson Purchasing Paper Company baseball nine here last night, the count being 6-3.

The new entry in the Lower Bucks Circuit gave the "Hibbies" plenty of fight but a rally in the last frame, featuring bingles by Roe, Thompson, and Sullivan produced a trio of tallies to give the A. O. H. club their second straight victory.

Thompson, Sullivan, and McClafferty with two safe blows each led the winners while "Sid" Purcell with two hits led the losers. Leighton was the fielding star of the night.

HULMEVILLE, July 13.—The Hulmeville nine won its third consecutive victory of the second half of the Lower Bucks County League here last night, beating the Croydon team, 9-3 in a one-sided contest. Hulmeville has not been defeated in the second half and has a full game edge in the league leadership.

PLENTY OF THRILLS AT ST. ANN'S FIELD

BRISTOL TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Schedule for Tonight
EDGELEY vs. A. O. H.
(St. Ann's Field)

Result of Last Night
A. O. H., 10; CRESCENTS, 9

(By T. M. Juno)

Thrills were plentiful last night on St. Ann's field as the Hibernians nosed out the Crescents, 10-9, in a free-scoring tilt in which the lead changed inning after inning and it being anybody's game at all times.

The Crescents took the lead in the first by scoring a run. The "Hibs" came right back and scored twice. The Crescents again took the lead in the second when two runs crossed the plate but the ultimate winners put over four runs to lead 6-3. But the Crescents did not give up and before the third inning was over, four tallies had been shoved across and the lead again changed, the count being 7-6. Two runs for the "Hibs" made the count 8-7 in the latter part of the third.

Twice in the fourth did the Crescents count and the scoring read: Crescents, 9; A. O. H., 8. A marker in the lower part of the inning made the score even at nine all and then in the sixth inning the Hibernians put the winning run over the plate.

In the last half of the sixth with one out, Connors walked, was caught off first and when Breslin made a low throw to second came all the way home to score the winning run.

"Joey" Roe made his debut with the winners and played stellar ball afield, handling three hard stops in fine style and besides leading his club with the stick. Three hits, one a double rang off the bat and each were instrumental in the scoring of his team's runs.

Bonfrancisco clouted a home run for the losers. The circuit clout came in the fourth frame with one runner off base.

It's the Cigarette that's Milder and Tastes Better!

That's why more and more Smokers are changing to Chesterfield every day

WHEN you are smoking a lot of cigarettes every day, you naturally want a mild cigarette, and smokers try Chesterfields and find out that they are milder and taste better.

Then smokers tell other smokers—"one smoker telling another"—that they find that although they smoke a great many Chesterfields during the day, they never tire of them; and that they have found out that Chesterfield is a milder cigarette, that it is a cigarette that tastes better, that it is a cigarette with a most pleasing aroma.

Some time ago, in a Chesterfield advertisement, there was a statement, "A $90,000,000 Reason," and this means that the larger part of $90,000,000 is invested in the right kind of ripe, mild Domestic and Turkish tobaccos to make sure that Chesterfields are milder and taste better.

May we ask you to try them?
